

Take Away 'Home Learning'

Term:HT3.....
 Year group: ...Year 9
 Subject:English.....
 Topic: ... Poetry.....

The Peri-ometer 4 task menu shows the level of challenge of each task ranging from extra mild to extra hot. All tasks should be completed during the term.

Research: What is blackout poetry? Try to produce your own from newspaper clippings or any other piece of text you will not need anymore.	Write a poem on a topic of your choice. Success criteria: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1) Structure your poem for effect 2) Include more than one voice in your poem for effect 	How does NOT MY BUSINESS – Niyi Osundare remind you of Martin Niemoller’s 1942 poem ‘And then they came for me’? Either draw up a comparison table of similarities and differences between the poems or write a paragraph exploring them.
Find a poem of your choice (see websites like PoetryFoundation.org and PoemHunter.com) Make notes on the language techniques the writer uses also write why you like it?	Create a revision guide for students that covers all the new knowledge and understanding you have picked up from this term about poetry	Find a song you like (no explicit lyrics!) and copy the words onto a word document where you can then see how many poetry techniques you annotate.
Write a short diary entry as a famous poet struggling to write a new poem. Try to include as many of poetic terms as you can! Underline where you've included these words.	Sonnet Features – fill in the blanks. <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. There are _____ lines in a sonnet. 2. A sonnet is made up of Rhyming _____. 3. Each line has _____ syllables. 4. The final couplet often sums up the poem’s main _____. 5. _____ is a famous sonnet composer. 6. Sonnets are mostly about the topic of _____. 7. Sonnets use a meter called _____ pentameter 	Create a mood board of things that are happening in the world around you (watching the news may help) you can add pictures and/or notes. Which topics on your mood board would make great topics to highlight through poetry? Have a go at writing one!
Write your own poem in any style	Make a poster advertising a ‘Poetry Slam’ you must include names of poets that will perform and titles of some of their work: Make sure you colour it in and make it look presentable	Define the terms: Classicalism and Romanticism. Use them in a sentence about the time period